Action type: Action 2.2 – European Voluntary Service with third countries

Summary of the project:

The project will host two Polish volunteers. Both of them will be mainly involved in artistic, sport and other activities with children. Apart from this they will have a chance to get involved in regular international events organised by YMCA, get to know the structure and organise common projects with Polish sending organisation. They will join the already existing team of experienced young volunteers and professionals in YMCA. In that way they will be given adequate training and they will not be put in position to carry out tasks for which they feel incompetent or dislike. In the same time they will have opportunity to integrate their previous knowledge, experience, creativity, and ideas. The role of the volunteers in the programs is unique and significant. Their involvement in the work will provide wider perspective for the issue of differences among the children and youth targeted by the programs, it will open their views wider for the diversity of nations, people and cultures in Europe.

Summary of the project:

DOVERBA as a part of a wider network on national level has a project - campaign for informing people on the important matters regarding HIV / AIDS. The volunteers will assist the team for this campaign in preparing the necessary materials. Also the volunteers will help in the organising of the counselling that it is conducted in local office as well as be part of these counselling. Volunteers will assist in the preparation of the monthly magazine and inform people on the possibilities, which the project offers. Another part of the project in DOVERBA is involvement of volunteers in practising reconciliation methods. There is a reason for this since the local community where we work is ethnically mixed, mainly Albanians and Macedonians, and there is still tension among the different ethnicities. Mediation is a process that helps the people of one area to solve problems among each other with a person that is educated for peaceful conflict resolution. In our organisation we educate young people in the basics of this skill in order for them to be mediators in various situations. The volunteer here first will be educated in the process of Mediation and afterwards will assist the team of educators for this important peace building method.

Project title: BALtic & BALcan Human Minorities and Social Cohesion

Action type: Action 5.1.2 – Support measures with third countries

Summary of the project:

Context of this project has its roots in situation in Macedonia. Due to the political process the tension between Macedonia and Albanian inhabitants increases. It is very well observed that even young people involved in NGOs - so those really educated tolerant and open for cultural interactions - have problem to stay away from strong judgements and sometimes even decisions to attack the opponents, this situation creates potential danger. This situation is not only Macedonian case, it is quite similar in other countries in the Balkans and the Baltic states that appear on the map at the end of last century after being part of federations like USSR or Yugoslavia. In both region many people experience what it means to be minority, majority, move the borders, fight for the rights, loose rights, feel at home, feel foreign in his/her country, create new borders, not accept border, being oppressed. The training aims at developing participants competences needed to run European youth projects aimed at overcoming xenophobia, discrimination targeting minority young people issues.

Project title: Many friendship - One Nature (Balkan Edition)

Action type: Action 1.2 – Youth for Europe – Youth exchanges with third countries

Summary of the project:

An intercultural meeting in the former Yugoslavia region (Serbia) is one of a variety of youth projects that our organisation already carried out. It is an upgrade of a successful project One Nature - Many Friendships that was held this summer at the feet of the Alps in idyllic natural environment. It was there that the idea to organise a project with former Yugoslavian countries was raised. We responded to the invitation of Serbian partner organisation and decided to carry out the project there. The main story will take place on a camping site in an idyllic mountain region by Fruška gora near Novi Sad. A weekly stay in natural environment with wide range of recreational-sports and educational activities proved to be perfect for making strong partner contacts and developing quality relations among young people that overcome racial, religious and other discriminations. All the natural priorities should be used for realisation of a good interactive programme in connection to the theme of intercultural learning, presentation of some of the European youth programmes and learning about the Balkan and European area. The programme is focused only on four countries, which were interested for such cooperation.
